CORPORATE SPONSORSHIPS

Do you own a business or someone who does? Corporate sponsorships have earned a large portion of the money raised by the APPLE auction. Business may sponsor the auction at several different levels, each with its own incentives including dinner and drinks on us, plus several advertisement opportunities. Sponsorships and time spent procuring them absolutely count toward your procurement obligations as an APPLE family.

Wine Pull

Donate a delicious bottle of your favorite wine to the wine pull!

You may host a party to count as one of your procurements. Plan an event hosted by you with a date and time, and auction guests pay and sign up to attend. You could even team up with a friend!
